17th November, 2021

To Whom It May Concern

I am writing this letter with utmost confidence to recommend [redacted], who is willing to pursue Master degree at your university.

[redacted] joined as an Associate Research Analyst for our on February 2021 and worked till July 2021 before bidding farewell to pursue his career ambitions.

I remember him as a consistent team member who was friendly and easygoing in the work environment. I was impressed with his knowledge and skills in the financial markets, which hereby increased overall productivity.

In conclusion, I would reiterate earnest recommendation for [redacted]. I am convinced [redacted] will be successful in his future endeavors. If you have any further queries regarding his professional experience in the company, please feel free to contact me using the information on this letterhead.

Sincerely,